FOREWORD

These Initial Teacher Education course manuals were developed by a team consisting of members from Colleges of Education and four universities namely the University of Ghana, Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, University of Education, Winneba, and University for Development Studies. This team was originally constituted by the National Council for Tertiary Education (now the Ghana Tertiary Education Commission) in 2019 to support the delivery of the new B.Ed. curriculum with assistance from T-TEL and UK Aid. The revision, finalization and printing of these manuals took place in 2021 with support from T-TEL and Mastercard Foundation.

The course manuals have been produced for use as general guides for the delivery of the new four-year B.Ed. curriculum in Colleges of Education in collaboration with their affiliated universities. They are designed to support student teachers, tutors, and lecturers in delivering a complete B.Ed. course for training student teachers which meets the requirements of the National Teachers' Standards, enabling them to teach effectively in basic schools.

The first section of the manuals is focused on the course information and vision for the B.Ed. curriculum. The second section presents the course details, goal for the subject or learning area, course description, key contextual factors as well as core and transferable skills and cross-cutting issues, including equity and inclusion. The third section is a list of course learning outcomes and their related learning indicators. The fourth section presents the course content which is broken down into units for each week, the topic and sub-strands and their related teaching and learning activities to achieve the learning outcomes and the teaching and learning strategies. This is followed by course assessment components in section five. Each manual contains a list of required reading and references as well as teaching and learning resources. The final section presents course related professional development for tutors and lecturers to be able to use each section of the manual.

Field instructions to guide Supported Teaching in School are integrated into the course manuals to provide the student teacher with guidance in developing teaching throughout the entire period of study to be able to meet the requirements of the National Teachers' Standards (NTS) and the National Teacher Education Curriculum Framework (NTECF). To ensure maximum benefit the course manuals should be used in addition to other resources such as the NTS, NTECF, National Teacher Education & Assessment Policy and the National Teacher Education Gender Equality and Social Inclusion (GESI) Strategy and Action Plan.. This will help to ensure that student teachers' learning is integrated within the wider teacher education policy framework.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The course manuals were developed through the collaborative efforts of a team of individuals from Colleges of Education, University of Ghana, Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, University of Education, Winneba, and University for Development Studies. They were produced in association with the Ghana Tertiary Education Commission of the Ministry of Education, Ghana.

A participatory team approach was used to produce this set of resources for tutors/lecturers, mentors, and student teachers. We are grateful to the specialists who contributed their knowledge and expertise.

Special thanks to Professor Jophus Anamuah-Mensah- T-TEL Key Advisor, Dr. Eric Daniel Ananga-T-TEL Key Advisor for Curriculum reform and Beatrice Noble-Rogers who provided key editorial, review and content input and facilitated the process of drafting and finalising the course manual.

Patricia Appiah-Boateng and Gameli Samuel Hahomene, served as typesetting and formatting coordinators and designed and produced the illustrations, tables, and other graphics which appear in the pages. They spent time and effort designing and redesigning the graphic layout and producing the camera-ready copy resulting in a set of materials that are easy to use, read, and reference.

Thanks also goes to all T-Tel staff members who worked to support production of these course manuals, particularly Beryl Opong-Agyei and Gideon Okai. Their frankness and co-operative attitude complimented the team approach used to produce this manual.

We are indebted to the Ministry of Education and the Ghana Tertiary Education Commission (GTEC) for the general support and specific helpful advice provided during production of the course manuals. Recognition and thanks must go to Chief Technical Advisor for T-TEL and Policy Advisor to the National Education Reform Secretariat, Akwasi Addae-Boahene, Prof. Mohammed Salifu, the Director General of GTEC and Mr. Jerry Sarfo the coordinator for the colleges of education, who in diverse ways supported during the course manual writing workshops.

In addition to all the staff who participated visibly in the development of these materials we would like to acknowledge all those people from the many colleges of education and universities in which we have worked who have, directly or indirectly, shared their views on the curriculum with us.

INTRODUCTION TO COURSE MANUALS

Welcome to this B.Ed. Course manual.

Following the accreditation of the B.Ed. by the National Accreditation Board with its recognition as a world class teacher education curriculum, the decision was taken to support effective implementation through the development of course manuals. The course manuals provide tutors and lecturers with the materials necessary to support teaching each of the B.Ed. courses. The manuals adhere directly to, and emphasise, the principles and standards set out in the NTS, NTECF and in the B.Ed. and will help ensure operationalising the Government's Teacher Education Reform Policy.

The manuals serve the following purposes:

- They are the key educational agreements between the training institution and the student teachers. In this way student teachers know what the expectations are for them and for the training they will receive.
- They lay out the course outcomes, content, strategies and assessment, thereby providing direction to and consistency in training and B.Ed. implementation among tutors across the country.
- They are explicit documents that provide other institutions with information on which to base transfer/articulation decisions.

Specifically, they also:

- Support coherent lesson planning and teaching which will enable student teachers to achieve the NTS and become good teachers who ensure all pupils' learning whilst offering tutors the flexibility for adaptation for local needs and contexts.
- Provide a lesson by lesson overview of the course, building on and developing the material in the course specifications.
- Inform tutors, student teachers and others working with student teachers about:
 1. What is to be taught and why.
 2. How it can be taught.
 3. How it should be assessed.
- Provide opportunities for student teachers to develop and apply knowledge during supported teaching in school, creating a strong bond between learning in school and in the training institution.
- Reflect the stage of student teacher development, set out in the model for progress across the four years of the B.Ed.
- Can be used as self-study tools by student teachers.
- Ensure that all information necessary to inform teacher training is in one place (serves as reference document).
- The manuals are the basis of the CoEs and university professional development sessions to ensure Principals, Tutors, lecturers and Heads of Department are fully familiar with the details of: courses, outcomes, content, approaches, assessments and lessons.

Who are course manuals for:

- College of Education Tutors
- Teacher Education University Lecturers
- Student Teachers
- Mentors and Lead Mentors
- All those with an interest in teacher education.

USING THIS MANUAL

Writers of the manuals engaged widely with colleagues in each subject area at each stage of development. Besides, writers envisaged themselves in varied contexts as they wrote, to suggest methodologies and strategies for teaching the topics which would ensure student teachers are enabled to achieve the learning outcomes. In view of our commitment to creativity, problem solving, collaboration and to lifelong learning, we expect that individual tutors will “own” their manuals and become user-developers. Lessons in the manuals will be topics for weekly PD meetings where tutors/lecturers will situate the lessons in the contexts of their colleges and their student teachers, in order to maximize the benefits.

It is also expected that tutors will model the best pedagogic practices for student teachers. Key among such practices is the communication of the importance of having a personal teaching philosophy. We expect that tutors and lecturers will explicitly communicate their personal teaching philosophies to their student teachers during the first meeting of every course. In preparation for this, we suggest you set out your personal teaching philosophy and how it will be demonstrated in your teaching using, or adapting, the sample sentence introductions below.

My teaching philosophy is

In view of this philosophy, I will facilitate this course by/through

COMMUNICATION SKILLS

COURSE DETAILS
Course name	COMMUNICATION SKILLS
Pre-requisite	Introduction to language and literacy studies
Course Level	100	Semester	1	Course Code		Credit Value	3

THE VISION FOR THE NEW FOUR-YEAR B.Ed. CURRICULUM

To transform initial teacher education and train highly qualified, motivated new teachers who are effective, engaging and fully prepared to teach the basic school curriculum and so improve the learning outcomes and life chances of all learners they teach as set out in the National Teachers' Standards. In doing this to instil in new teachers the Nation's core values of honesty, integrity, creativity and responsible citizenship and to achieve inclusive, equitable, high quality education for all learners.

GOAL FOR THE SUBJECT OR LEARNING AREA

The literacy studies program is designed to train effective teachers who are able to support all learners in communicating effectively through speaking, listening, reading and writing so that they can achieve success in education, develop into lifelong learners and improve literacy for all of Ghana's children.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This is an introductory course for all new student teachers. It is designed to help student teachers to develop effective language and study skills for their academic work; improve their vocabulary, become familiar with the conventions of standard English Language usage and develop strategies for preparing for and taking examinations. The course also aims at equipping student teachers with the mechanical skills for academic writing and reading. Additionally, the course will develop student teachers' skills for communicating effectively in both the academic environment and classroom context. The course will offer student teachers the opportunity to visit schools and to acquaint themselves with how teachers communicate with their learners. It will identify the challenges student teachers may face and introduce the requisite skills to manage their time effectively and plan for their studies. Furthermore, the course will offer student teachers the opportunity to apply appropriate technology to use and access information to improve their communicative competence.

The course will be delivered through learner-centred teaching strategies like discussions, self-study, think-pair-share, observations, videos/audio-visual, group/individual work, etc. Such approaches will be employed taking into consideration all manner of learners. Student teachers who take the course will be assessed through: report writing, assignments, group work, school visits/observation, quizzes, examinations and class participation. The course seeks to fulfil the following National Teachers Standards (NTS) and National Teacher Education Curriculum Framework (NTECF) requirements: NTS 1a, b; 2e, and 3 b, e, i, j, and NTECF bullets 5. 9; p.25.

KEY CONTEXTUAL FACTORS

Effective communication by teachers is crucial for effective communication with their learners and stakeholders. Additionally, teaching student teachers to speak, listen, read and write for academic and professional purposes have received little attention. These skills are crucial in student teachers' academic and professional endeavour. However, these key components are de-emphasised in the current teacher-training curriculum. This has affected student teachers' ability to communicate effectively in their academic work and with their learners in the classroom. There is the misconception that once student teachers take courses in English their communication skills will improve but this is not always the case. The aim of the course therefore is to train student teachers to possess good communication skills and to apply them in their academic work and in their classroom as teachers.

CORE AND TRANSFERABLE SKILLS AND CROSS CUTTING ISSUES, INCLUDING EQUITY AND INCLUSION

- Critical thinking and problem solving
- Collaboration
- Communication
- Observation and Enquiry skills
- Digital literacy
- Cultural and linguistic diversity and inclusion

Course Learning Outcomes	Learning Indicators
1. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the nature of academic communication. (NTECF bullet 9, p.25).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain the process and forms of communication. • Discuss barriers to communication in academic writing. • State strategies for overcoming barriers to effective communication.
2. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of academic listening and speaking and apply them to improve their academic communication and professional work as would be teachers. (NTS 2c)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify the types of listening and speaking in academic communication. • Identify the role of listening and speaking in academic communication. • Use appropriate listening and speaking strategies in their academic communication and professional life.
3. Develop critical and analytic thinking skills in reading and apply them to improve their communication in their academic environment and professional work. (NTS 3e).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify different types of reading in academic communication. • Use appropriate reading strategies and types for targeted academic purposes. • Exhibit enhanced critical and analytical reading abilities in their academic communication. • Use appropriate reading strategies in their academic communication and professional life.
4. Develop good academic writing skills to improve their communication in the academic environment and professional work as would be teachers (NTS 1a).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify types of academic writing. • Identify the features of the various academic writings. • Identify the processes involved in academic writing (Product and Process writing). • Discuss various ways of developing critical writing. • Write a report on their school visit on how teachers develop critical writing skills among learners and how to improve their professional skills in developing writing as would be teachers.
5. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of study skills and apply them in their studies to enhance their professional development. (NTS 1b).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Take and make brief but comprehensive notes from lessons taught or materials read. • Use the internet to gather information on topics discussed in class for studies. • Identify and pick out salient information from books, articles, lessons and online materials. • Make a daily routine chart to manage daily academic life. • Develop appropriate strategies to prepare for lectures and examinations and develop their professional competence as would be teachers.

Research and presentation (student teachers discuss the various types of writing in academic setting assigned to them and make presentation to class). 2. Video (teacher shows a video of a teacher presenting the processes involved in academic writing to student teachers and leads them to identify the steps involved in process writing). 3. Practical Work (student teachers are made to select topic and write essays following the steps involved in process approach to writing). 4. Self-study (individual student teachers research on components of critical writing and write essays and submit for peer/teacher evaluation). 5. Practical activity (student teachers are presented with texts and asked to paraphrase and summarise them). 6. Discussion (teacher leads class discussion on grammar, how it affects effective writing and how learners can minimise grammatical and punctuation errors in their academic writing). 7. Problem solving (student teachers identify and resolve grammatical errors in a given text).

Unit/ Week	Topics	Sub-topic (if any)	Teaching and learning activity to achieve the learning outcomes
5	Developing Study Skills	5.1 Study skills 5.1.1. Note-taking and note making 5.2. Gathering relevant materials and studying for information 5.3. Time management 5.4. Examination preparation skills	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Discussion (teacher lead discussion using leading and probing questions taking into consideration all manner of learners). 2. Oral tapes/videos (student teachers listen to oral tapes/videos and take notes of the main ideas presented). 3. Group work (student teachers are put into mixed groups to use appropriate technology to gather specific information and present to class bringing out main ideas in material read). 4. Graphic organiser/concept mapping (student teachers use appropriate technology to design graphic organisers/concept map to plan their time for their individual daily and weekly activities/routines). 5. Observation (student teachers visit schools to see how pupils study skills are developed and write short reports on this and on how they can transfer study skills they have developed to their 'would be' learners: opportunity to share in class). 6. Self-study (student teachers reflect on how they plan for examinations and share with class).

Unit/ Week	Topics	Sub-topic (if any)	Teaching and learning activity to achieve the learning outcomes
6	Documenting (Referencing) Sources	6.1 In-text citations and Referencing 6.1.1. In-text citation, 6.1.2 References (APA) and bibliography 6.2 Using technology in information search and referencing	1. Lecture and discussion (teacher introduces the topic on documenting sources and use leading and probing question to lead student teachers to discuss the topic). 2. Student teachers are introduced to term papers/thesis/project writing templates on the computer). 3. Group work (student teachers work in assigned groups to work on different topics e.g. ethical issues in research, plagiarism etc. and make presentation to class). 4. Research and Presentation (student teachers search for information online and books on how to reference different forms of materials used in writing academic papers). 5. Practical work (student teachers write academic essays which require in-text citation and referencing).

2. Teaching and Learning Strategies

This course will be taught in a one 3-hour session each week.

- Group work
- Demonstrations
- Think, pair and share
- School visits
- Discussion
- Concept mapping
- Individual work and presentation
- Teacher modelling
- Brainstorming
- Questioning

3. Course Assessment Components

Component 1: COURSEWORK

Summary of Assessment Method: Assessment of learning

Presentation and 1500 word report:

Group presentation with individual reports from each student teacher on forms of communication and developing language skills. Each student to focus on developing one of : reading or writing or speaking or listening .

Title of Lesson	Academic Discourse (The concept of communication and forms)				Lesson Duration	3 hours
Lesson description	This lesson introduces the student teacher to the nature of academic communication. It also defines and discusses what communication is and the forms of communication in an academic environment.
Previous student teacher knowledge, prior learning (assumed)	The student teacher can explain language and they have been writing academic texts.
Possible barriers to learning in the lesson	Poor English language background. Poor academic writing skills. Large class size.
Lesson Delivery - chosen to support student teachers in achieving the outcomes	Face-to-face √	Practical Activity √	Work-Based Learning	Seminars √	Independent Study	E-learning opportunities √	Practicum
Lesson Delivery – main mode of delivery chosen to support student teachers in achieving the learning outcomes.	Face-to-face: opportunity for an extended and coherent line of argument. It includes discussion, brainstorming, question and answer, think-pair-share, etc. This can be tutor and / or student teacher-led. It should not usually be the main mode. Practical Activity: enable experimentation and the analysis and discussion of issues, documents and materials, as well as physical activities. Seminars: generate group and individual creativity, discussion and reflection. This will be student and / or tutor-led. E-learning opportunities: involves the use of interactive packages and virtual learning environments. This can be part of any of the above modes of delivery. It is unlikely to be a delivery mode in its own right.

Academic Discourse		Introduction: 10 minutes	Question and answer Guide student teachers to review their knowledge on language and communication through questioning. (PDP Theme 2, P. 11).	Student teachers respond to questions asked by the tutor to review their knowledge on language in particular and communication in general.
	What is communication?	Stage 1: 30 mins	Class Discussion Guide student teachers using probing and thought- provoking questions to discuss the various definitions of communication to come out with an acceptable definition of their own. Encourage student teachers to contribute to the discussion. (PDP Theme 3, P. 64).	Student teachers answer questions and contribute to class discussion on the definitions of communication by using available technology and books to look for information on the topic. Student teachers come out with their own acceptable definition of the concept.

	Forms of Communication in an academic environment	Stage 2: 80 mins	Group Work Group student teachers and assign each group the task of discussing forms of communication. Encourage student teachers to use available technology and books where necessary. Later, ask student teachers to do oral presentation for peer and tutor comments. (PDP Theme 4, P. 79).	Each of the groups discusses their views on the forms of communication using online information and books and makes oral presentation to the class for peer and tutor comments.
	Nature of academic communication	Stage 3: 40 mins	Brainstorming Guide student teachers to brainstorm in groups on the nature of academic communication using probing and leading questions and later ask student teachers to share information for comments. (PDP Theme 3, P. 64). Encourage student teachers to use available technology where necessary. Let student teachers discuss how this lesson will help them in their communication in the classroom as would be professionals.	Student teachers brainstorm in groups using available technology to look for information on what characterises academic communication and later share their information with the entire class for discussion. Student teachers discuss how this lesson will help them in their communication in their communication in the classroom as would be professionals.

Title of Lesson	Academic Discourse (Barriers to effective communication)				Lesson Duration	3 hours
Lesson description	This lesson builds on communication and the different forms of communication as discussed in the previous lesson. In this lesson, barriers to effective communication will be discussed as well as ways of overcoming these barriers. This will equip student teachers with skills to communicate effectively in academic discourse and in their professional life as classroom teachers.
Previous student teacher knowledge, prior learning (assumed)	Student teachers have been introduced to the meaning and forms of communication. Student teachers' own experiences of communication will be essential to draw upon.
Possible barriers to learning in the lesson	Students may not be aware about the barriers that affect effective communication.
Lesson Delivery - chosen to support student teachers in achieving the outcomes	Face-to-face √	Practical Activity √	Work-Based Learning	Seminars √	Independent Study √	E-learning opportunities √	Practicum
Lesson Delivery – main mode of delivery chosen to support student teachers in achieving the learning outcomes.	Face-to-face: discussion. Independent study: individual reflections and reading assignment. Seminar: group presentations. E-learning opportunity: use of mobile phones and searching for information online.

Academic Discourse		Introduction: 10 mins	Questioning and answering Recap the previous lesson using the 'verbal basketball' technique [one person answers a question and 'throws' the question to another person].	Student teachers share what they remember from the previous lesson and calls another student from the class to also share what he/she remembers.
	Barriers to effective communication	Stage 1: 50 mins	Group Work Tutor/lecturer begins the lesson by presenting a spider diagram with 'barriers to effective communication' in the centre and asks student teachers to identify the barriers. Tutor invites each group to share their findings with class through PowerPoint presentations. (PDP Theme 4, P. 79). Tutor/lecturer summarizes the presentations and guides student teachers to pick out the key barriers to effective communication to complete the provided spider diagram.	Student teachers form groups and search for information online on barriers to communication. Each group presents their findings about barriers to effective communication in a PowerPoint to class. Each presentation is followed by peer and tutor comments. Student teachers work with tutor/lecturer to identify key barriers to effective communication from the group presentations. Developing critical and analytic reading		Introduction: 20 mins	Discuss with student teachers the observation they made on their school visit on how classroom teachers use different type(s) of reading in their teaching to develop the reading skills of learners.	Contribute to discussion on the type(s) of reading teachers use to promote the reading skills of learners from their school visit. Identify key types of reading students have observed in school and any other types of reading discussed in the course, which might be useful in their profession as would-be teachers.
	Strategies for critical and analytic reading	Stage 1: 80 mins	Group Work Tutor puts student teachers into 4 main groups and assigns each group one of the strategies of critical and analytic reading (Monitoring reading, Graphic and semantic organisers, Critical reading for information and Generating questions).	Student teachers work in groups to search for information online and in the core textbook to explain the strategy assigned to them and how to apply the strategy in their own reading.

Topic:	Sub-Topic:	Stage/ time	Teacher Activity	Student Activity
Developing critical and analytic reading			Tutor asks each group to use available technology and the core textbook to find information about the meaning of the strategy assigned to them and how to apply that strategy in reading for academic information. Tutor guides student teachers to present their findings on the strategy assigned to them. Tutor comments on each presentation to highlight the key points. (PDP Theme 3, P. 75)	In their groups, student teachers make PowerPoint presentations on the information gathered to the class. Student teachers take note of the key points being highlighted by tutor after each group's PowerPoint presentation. Student teachers give peer comments after each PowerPoint Presentation.
		Stage 2: 60 mins	Practical activity Tutor gives out an academic text to student teachers to practice individually on the critical and analytic reading strategies discussed in reading the given text. Tutor facilitates a class discussion by asking student teachers to share the information obtained from the given text with the class.	Student teachers work individually to practice the critical and analytic strategies for reading using the given text. Student teachers share the information obtained from the given text.

Lesson Delivery – main mode of delivery chosen to support student teachers in achieving the learning outcomes.	Face-to-face: give opportunity for an extended and coherent line of argument. It includes discussion, brainstorming, question and answer, etc. This can be tutor and / or student teacher-led. It should not usually be the main mode. Independent study: enable student teachers to engage with relevant and appropriate materials to promote individual and collaborative enquiry, more in-depth analysis and development. This can be part of any of the above modes. Seminars: generate group and individual creativity, discussion and reflection. This can be student and / or tutor-led. E-learning opportunities: include veg the use of interactive packages and virtual learning environments. This can be part of any of the above modes of delivery. It is unlikely to be a delivery mode in its own right.

	Writing the types of academic writing	Stage 3: 60 mins	Practical activity Tutor gives out samples of academic writing to the new groups formed of the types of writing discussed. Tutor leads student teachers to read and identify the features of each type of writing. Tutor facilitates a class discussion on the features of the texts read to compare with the presentations they did to consolidate what student.	Student teachers work from the new groups formed to read text giving to them by the tutor and read for the features of the text assigned to them. Student teachers note the features of the type of text assigned to them and, in a class discussion, compare the features noted in their texts. Student teachers compare with what they presented to teachers have learned.

	School Visit		School Visit: Provide student teachers with checklist on the features of types of writing to find out how teachers teach the types of writing and how to improve their professional skills in developing writing as would be teachers and write a report to be discussed in the following lesson.	Student teachers visit schools to find out how teachers in the JHS, Upper Primary or early grade teach the range of types of writing. They complete the checklist and note the key points they have learned about teaching writing for discussion in the following lesson.
		Closure/ Conclusion: 15 mins	Tutor/lecturer uses questions to get student teachers to summarize the lesson (PDP Theme 2, P. 35). Tutor answers questions from student teachers for clarification. Follow-up: Give a gist of what will be learned in the following week and ask student teachers to read ahead of time.	Student teachers answer questions posed by tutor to summarize the lesson. DUPLICATE THE PLANNER FOR EACH LESSON

Plans for each lesson in the semester.

The following format should be completed for each lesson in the semester.

Year of B.Ed.	1	Semester	2	Place of lesson in semester	12 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
----------------------	---	-----------------	---	------------------------------------	----------------------------------

Title of Lesson	Study Skills (time management and examination preparation skills) I				Lesson Duration	3 hours
Lesson description	This lesson introduces the student teachers to proper time management and examination preparation skills.
Previous student teacher knowledge, prior learning (assumed)	The student teachers have learned about note-taking and note-making.
Possible barriers to learning in the lesson	Student teachers might not be aware of how to manage their time properly and how to prepare effectively for examinations. Large Class size.
Lesson Delivery - chosen to support student teachers in achieving the outcomes	Face-to-face √	Practical Activity √	Work-Based Learning	Seminars √	Independent Study √	E-learning opportunities √	Practicum
Lesson Delivery – main mode of delivery chosen to support student teachers in achieving the learning outcomes.	Face-to-face: give opportunity for an extended and coherent line of argument. It includes discussion, brainstorming, question and answer, etc. This can be tutor and / or student teacher-led. It should not usually be the main mode. Independent study: enable student teachers to engage with relevant and appropriate materials to promote individual and collaborative enquiry, more in-depth analysis and development. This can be part of any of the above modes. Seminars: generate group and individual creativity, discussion and reflection. This will be student and / or tutor-led. E-learning opportunities: involve the use of interactive packages and virtual learning environments. This can be part of any of the above modes of delivery. It is unlikely to be a delivery mode in its own right. Practical Activity: enable experimentation and the analysis and discussion of issues, documents and materials, as well as physical activities.
